PROFILE

Daniele Durante (1969) is graduated with honors in Architecture and he has a PhD in Industrial Design, Design, Art and New Technologies Architecture.

In 2012 he qualified as a Teaching Assistant in Post-doctoral Research in Exhibit & Public Design.

Since 2003 he has been teaching as adjunct professor at the Faculty of Architecture of the University "Sapienza" and from 2008 as professor of the Master in "Exhibit & Public Design".

In the two-year period 2015/2016 and 2016/2017, he has been teacher at the Faculty of Architecture, University of Ferrara.

He has been visiting critic at the Cornell University in Rome in the spring 2009, spring 2014, fall 2014 and fall 2019. He is regularly invited to give lectures and conduct workshops in different of international universities and institutions, including the Pratt Institute, Temple University, Ohio State University, Roma Tre University and Ferrara University.

In all the activities carried out at the university, he has succeeded in bringing together the culture of design with that of creation, exploring the relationship between design and the execution of the work, whilst taking into consideration the contribution of art and art criticism.

He has paid particular attention to issues related to environmental sustainability and the experimentation and testing of new techniques and materials mainly used in other industrial sectors, as well as the use of innovative and contemporary techniques and materials already known and utilized in the sector.

Professional experience

1987/2001 - Studio Giampaolo Ercolani - collaborator and project manager
1998/2003 - Studio Nemesi - project manager
2003/2004 - Studio Morq* - founding member

In 2004 he set up Studiobv36.

His professional engagement is to combine innovation and research with work practices, taking into account the relationship between architecture, art and design: the premise of this research is that the architecture manifests itself as an inclusive discipline, whose operating systems can feed off different creative fields.

His activity is focused on residential architecture, with innovative approaches to inhabiting the home, on workplace architecture, as well as on urban public spaces. He has completed, in recent years, several public and private projects, such as offices, homes, businesses, public spaces.

He has participated in numerous national and international competitions, many of which he has won and have won awards.

He collaborated with the 1880 Matteograssi company, for the production of leather furniture.

He collaborated with the RF Yamakawa CO LTD of Tokyo, for the production of furniture in wood and aluminum.

He was selected for the award "Quality Young Italians" in 2010, among the 35 best architectural firms under 40 years of age.

He was selected for "Architecture Talks - Rome" MAXXI architecture, as one of the best architectural firms in Rome.

His projects have been published in numerous books, specialist international magazines and architecture and design websites.
